Ford To Buy Philco Corp.

Auto Firm Seeks To Diversify Output

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co.—in an effort to diversify—plans to purchase the assets of Philco Corp., one of the nation's pioneer firms in radio, television and electronics.

Ford and Philco directors said Wednesday they have agreed in principle. No price was disclosed.

The transaction, scheduled to be completed Nov. 30, is subject to approval by Philco stockholders and conditions of tax laws.

Under the agreement, Philco will become a wholly owned subsidiary of Ford. Ford will take over Philco's assets and liabilities and will issue and deliver shares of Ford stock to Philco stockholders.

Henry Ford II, board chairman of Ford, said the purchase will enable his firm "to broaden operations, to provide entry into new fields and make possible a fuller participation by our company in the national defense and space effort."

The purchase agreement provides that Philco stockholders will receive one share of Ford common stock for each 4½ shares of Philco. Preferred stockholders will receive—for each share of Philco—Ford stock of value equal to $101.50, plus cash for accrued unpaid dividends. Exact ratios will be based on market value of Ford common stock shortly before the completion of the transaction on Nov. 30.

As of Sept. 1, there were 4,104,-

Jury Probe Of Lisbon Firm Planned

LISBON — County Prosecutor G. William Brokaw said today the September Grand Jury will be recalled Sept. 21, for a special hearing on the Lisbon Sales Book Co., which was raided by Atty. General Mark McElroy and his aids last Wednesday.

John W. Gleason of Columbus, Assistant Attorney General, conferred with Prosecutor Brokaw this morning, after which the announcement to recall the grand jury was made.

The Attorney general claims the Salesbook firm was the third largest producers of numbers slips in the country.

The grand jury, is running a little behind schedule because of the appearance of several unexpected witnesses Wednesday. It is expected to get back on schedule today, with its report due Friday afternoon.

One new case had been added. The charge is against Herbert McCullough, of Lisbon in an alleged assault on Charlesetta Wilson, also of Lisbon, Sept. 6.

Bodies of 8 In Family Found

Carla Toll Hits 33, May Mount Higher

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — Fresh details of death and destruction from killer Hurricane Carla unfolded in the ravaged Gulf Coast sector today, and weather violence from the departed storm widened more than 1,000 miles northward into the Midwest.

Bodies of eight persons — all members of the same family—were discovered Wednesday night at inundated Freeport, one of the hardest hit among cities suffering multimillion-dollar losses along 250 miles of Texas and western Louisiana shore line.

The death toll, which could mount still higher, climbed to 33 in three states—22 lives in Texas and five each in Louisiana and Kansas.

Rains up to 8 inches sent flood waters rising in Oklahoma, Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska, Iowa, Illinois and Wisconsin. Flooding continued in South Texas, doused by post-Carla downpours up to nearly 10 inches.

Vicious winds, another hurricane after-effect, smashed at scattered points from Texas' southern tip through Missouri and into Michigan.

As these echoes from the massive tropical storm continued, National Guardsmen, public officials and a horde of refugees trudged through mud and debris on what promised to be a long and wearying struggle back to normalcy in coastal areas.

Public health threats caused widespread concern. Water supplies were contaminated in dozens of towns and cities.

Typhoid shots were being given to tens of thousands returning to devastated areas. At Houston's Municipal Auditorium, still filled with evacuees, doctors found 14 cases of measles.

Officials feared there would be more grim discoveries like that at Freeport, 40 miles from Galveston, where exhausted Robert Dunn, 15, may be the only survivor of a 12-member family group.

The youth saw a giant wave sweep away his parents, an uncle and aunt, and six children. Robert survived by clinging to the roof of his home.

Bodies of the father, R. W. Dunn, 52; Robert's uncle, Joseph J. Drvar, 54, and six children were recovered in a muddy bayou. Wives of the two men and another youth were missing.

A montainous wave came rolling in, Robert said, as his family huddled in the attic of his home.

"We all started trying to get on the roof," the youth related. "I managed to get up there. The wind was blowing really hard then, and I tried to reach down and help two of the children up. But something seemed to pull them away from me."

Deaths charged to the hurricane included five Wednesday in Kansas. A family of four perished in a car washed off a road near Waverly and another victim in a car swept off a causeway at Fort Scott.

Tornadoes generated before and after Carla's center surged inland with winds up to 175 miles per hour took six lives in Galveston and five others at two points in

East Berlin Police Hold 2 U.S. Youths

BERLIN (AP)—Two American youths touring Europe are being held by Communist authorities on charges of trying to smuggle an East German woman into West Berlin.

The two, Victor S. Pankey and Gilbert P. Ferrey, both 20, of Tustin, Calif., were accused of hiding the woman in the luggage compartment of a small German car while visiting East Berlin.

The East German Interior Ministry—quoted by the ADN news agency—said they were picked up at the Friedrichstrasse checkpoint, the only one open for foreigners in the divided city.

The ministry said they will be handed over to Communist courts after investigations are completed.

The two were taking a vacation in Europe before returning to their classes in the United States.

Ferrey's sister, Mrs. David McFadden of Tustin, Calif., said he had recently written her that they had no trouble getting into East Berlin—"our passports are like magic wands."

A Briton and a Dutchman also were reported seized by the Communists in what they charged were separate attempts to bring out three East Berliners described only as "female persons."

The Briton, Bernhard J. Collett, 30, was charged with trying to kidnap a woman by hiding her in the luggage compartment of his car. The Dutchman, Henri J. Pierrot, 55, was accused of trying to get a woman across the border on his wife's passport.

Ernst Lemmer, West Germany's minister for all-German affairs, said a wave of political arrests is sweeping East Germany. He said the daily number of refugees escaping to the West is still "in three figures" despite the barriers the East Germans threw up at the border of the divided city.

Urges Construction From City To Hamlet

Shelters Key To Survival In Nuclear War, Teller Says

EDITOR'S NOTE: The notion that no really effective civil defense is possible against nuclear attack, a top atomic scientist says is dangerous nonsense. This second of three articles discusses the practical steps in protecting Americans against blast and fallout.

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Dr. Edward Teller has grave respect for the aim of Soviet rockets bearing nuclear warheads.

"They are accurate," says the University of California physicist.

They could hit assigned cities or military targets, unless anti-missiles or other defenses brought them down.

Warning systems promise to sound about 20 minutes advance notice—time enough for most people to take shelter.

But—few shelters exist.

Dr. Teller strongly urges a huge national effort to build public and private shelters from city to hamlet.

With them, nine out of 10 citizens could survive, he declares.

Without them, he fears, six or eight out of 10 will die.

The choice is that stark, in the eyes of the scientist whose genius contributed to fashioning the H-bomb.

Millions of people live in the fatalistic fear that if bombs fall, each will be directly underneath—or utterly doomed by radioactive winds and fallout.

Dr. Teller calls this dangerous nonsense.

Sketching basic essentials for shelters, he says many regions of the country would need only fallout shelters in basements for protection against radioactive clouds sweeping downwind from blasts.

The greatest danger would last only a few hours or a day, since radioactivity of the cloud declines rapidly with time and distance, he explains. Closed windows could keep out fallout radiation and

Sporadic Firing Continued by Katanga Troops

But U.N. Claims Control of All Strategic Points

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Katanga troops and armed civilians kept up sporadic resistance today to the United Nations takeover of their capital of Elisabethville. But the United Nations claimed its troops control all strategic points in the town.

Firing continued throughout the night and it was reported that the Katanga forces cut off all electric power in the provincial capital.

Radio monitors picked up a new station calling itself "Radio Free Katanga" which claimed the United Nations controlled only half of Elisabethville and that resistance would continue.

The whereabouts of President Moise Tshombe of Katanga was a mystery.

Warfare Threat Remains

The threat of guerrilla warfare in the rich province remained.

The 41-year-old Tshombe was offered refuge by Sir Roy Welensky, prime minister of the neighboring Central African Federation of the Rhodesias and Nyasaland. Welensky rushed white troops to Katanga's border Wednesday. Reports persisted that Tshombe had crossed into Rhodesia.

Informants in Leopoldville said a U.N. relief column set out for the nearby mining center of Jadotville, where 150 beleaguered Irish soldiers have been under constant attack by 500 Katanga soldiers.

A U.N. spokesman said fighting through the night was limited to isolated pockets where white officers have rallied the local Katanga troops. Most of these officers are believed to be Belgian, but a number of British, Rhodesian and French were reported among them.

Two U. N. Soldiers Killed

So far, said a U.N. spokesman, two U.N. troops—a Swedish officer and an Indian soldier—have been killed in Elisabethville battle. United Nations wounded include seven Indians, three Swedes, four Irishmen and a Norwegian doctor.

The Katanga forces are believed to have suffered about 40 dead and probably three times as many wounded.

Reports of Wednesday's fighting in Elisabethville still were confused but one thing seemed certain—the U.N. force was taken by surprise by the Katanga resistance.

Whether U.N. troops planned in advance to take over the city or whether it launched its military operation only after fighting had broken out still was not clear.

Some informants said the United Nations acted at the request of the central government.

Those informants said the plan envisaged raising the flag of the Leopoldville authorities over all main buildings in Elisabethville and then declaring Katanga's 14 months of independence at an end.

But the U.N. plan apparently leaked out and Katanga forces were ready to combat it.

Russia Fires Two More Blasts

U.S. Will Resume A-Tests In 10 Days

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is expected to resume underground nuclear testing within a week or 10 days.

This became known today as the Joint Congressional Atomic Committee called a closed session to go over plans for the new American series and to hear a top secret analysis of the nine Soviet blasts since Sept. 1. The two latest shots came Wednesday.

Rep. Chet Holifield, D-Calif., chairman of the Senate-House group, told a reporter that Atomic Energy Commission and Defense Department experts are "working night and day" to get the American tests under way.

Holifield said that the experiments will start with a number of underground blasts of relatively low yield.

The joint committee will get its secret briefing from Dr. Glenn T. Seaborg, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, and Maj. Gen. F. J. Rodenhauser, representing the Defense Department unit that will handle the military phases of the Nevada test series.

Various explanations have been advanced for the wide range of power yield detected from the nine Soviet blasts. Wednesday's shots were reported by the AEC as being in the low to intermediate range.

In nuclear terminology, low range could mean a force comparable to the American atomic bombs that blasted Hiroshima and Nagasaki. They had the explosive equivalent of 20,000 tons of TNT.

Some shots in the new Soviet series have exceeded the 1-million-ton range. Some scientists have suggested the Soviets are testing trigger devices for a superbomb that Soviet Premier Khrushchev has said he will build with the punch of 100 million tons of TNT.

The United States earlier perfected a variety of 1-million-ton equivalent bombs for delivery by B52 strateic aircraft.

The Public Health Service reversed itself Wednesday night and said there had been a mistake earlier in the day when it reported an abrupt increase in atmospheric radiation detected by its fallout station in Phoenix, Ariz.

A spokesman said the corrected reading for Tuesday was "more comparable to figures earlier in the month."

Goldwater Asks Practical Platforms

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—A leader of the conservative wing of the GOP wants Republicans to write platforms they can carry out.

"When we write a platform to please everybody, it's a pack of lies," Sen. Barry M. Goldwater, R - Ariz., declared Wednesday night at a testimonial dinner for Ohio Congressman Frank T. Bow of the 16th District.

"When we promise something for everybody, we can't do anything for anybody," the Arizona senator said. "We must list basic principles on which all Republicans can agree."

He said it is disastrous for Republicans to fight each other over their fringe disagreements rather than uniting on the central principles they all accept.

Goldwater described the basic GOP principles as freedom of the individual, responsibility for good government and the people's money and winning the cold war with communism.

Aiming his verbal barbs at the Kennedy administration, Goldwater told his audience of 1,300 he thought it was time somebody in the federal government talked about winning the cold war. "In Washington today, he charged, there is a complete lack of interest in this problem.

Left alone to make his own decisions, Goldwater said, President Kennedy might make the same mistakes any of us would, but they would not be irreparable. He charged Kennedy has surrounded himself with some failures—"the whole bunch that nearly wrecked us before is back running the ball game."

Strikes Curtail GM Production

Layoffs Planned By Auto Company

DETROIT (AP)— Any hope of General Motors Corp. getting back into high-gear production of 1962 model cars before next week is gone.

Five new at-the-plant working agreements were reached overnight, bringing to 53 the number of local-level contract settlements worked out with striking United Auto Workers. But GM's empire is made up of 129 plants.

Some plants where agreements have been reached still are idle. Others lack agreements but are operating. In all, 90-plus were idled by Monday walkouts.

Despite the few agreements, UAW President Walter P. Reuther predicted, "This thing will develop its own momentum."

Reuther and GM Vice President Louis G. Seaton concentrated on moving, laying aside for the second night in a row any top-level bargaining to resolve outstanding non-economic national issues.

The union and company already have reached agreement on a national package of wages and fringe benefits to be included in a new three-year contract. The union estimates the economic package is worth 12.04 cents an hour in take-home pay.

Crippling strikes by local unions erupted at a 10 a.m. deadline last Monday when there was no overall agreement. They quickly put all GM's auto assembly lines out of business and idled more than

Rusk Meets With Other Allied Ministers

U.S. Secretary, Gromyko May Hold Confab Next Week

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk opens a conference with Western foreign ministers here today to chart the Allied approach to the Soviet Union next week on negotiations for a Berlin settlement.

Rusk and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko are due to attend the fall session of the U.N. General Assembly beginning Tuesday. President Kennedy, disclosing this Wednesday, said their presence in New York will provide opportunity "for serious talks about Germany and other problems if the Soviet side proves willing."

The three-day Western policy conference was scheduled to start at the State Department at midafternoon with Rusk, Foreign Secretary Lord Home of Britain and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville attending.

Rusk scheduled preliminary talks earlier in the day with West German Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano and Lord Home Von Brentano will join the main conference Friday morning and participate in the sessions which will continue into Saturday.

Three main issues are set for discussion—the problem of Berlin negotiation between the Soviet Union and the Western powers, the planning of emergency measures to meet specific steps the Soviets could take to put pressure on West Berlin and issues which may come up at the United Nations. The third item is understood to include tactics for defeating the Soviet Union's expected bid to give Red China U.N. membership.

Kennedy declared Wednesday in his statement on Berlin that the United States is ready to discuss the Berlin crisis with Moscow and other governments in a search for means "to preserve an honorable peace."

"If that is the purpose on all

Our Baffling Berlin Bobble (First of 3 Articles):

Crisis Has Roots In History of '40s

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Who in the U.S. government blocked 1943-44 proposals to connect Berlin and West Germany — proposals that would have made today's Berlin Crisis impossible?

Here are the incredible facts.

John G. Winant, the U.S. ambassador negotiating in London with Britain and the Soviet Union favored a plan to write a guarantee of Allied access to Berlin into the original document setting up the zones. Winant made a journey back to the U.S. in May, 1944, to sell his idea. He talked to the assistant secretary of war. He talked to high State Department officers.

What these men told him isn't known, but it is known he went back to London convinced his case was hopeless. (Winant committed suicide three years later.)

The State Department division head concerned favored a plan that would connect West Germany and Berlin. He proposed to the State, War and Navy committee set up to coordinate such matters —the Working Security Committee—that a corridor be cut through Saxony-Anhalt and Brandenburg from West Germany to Berlin.

He pushed his plan to superiors in the Department of State. The plan died in the office of an assistant secretary of state for reasons unknown to this day.

In November, 1943, while on board the U.S.S Iowa on his way to the Cairo conference of Allies, the President sketched his ideas in pencil on a National Geographic map. (See illustration.)

That map would have given the Soviet Union East Germany up to Berlin. The U.S. would have occupied northwest Germany up to Berlin. The British would have occupied southwest Germany. There would have been no problem of access to Berlin. For the American zone and Berlin would have been firmly connected instead of 110 miles apart.

The President gave his map to Army Chief of Staff Gen. George C. Marshall, who gave it to Maj. Gen. Thomas T. Handy the same day. Handy sent it through military channels to the above mentioned State, War and Navy Working Security Committee, where it arrived three months later, in late February, 1944.

THE WAR DEPARTMENT insisted that the map be sent to Ambassador Winant with instructions that he "demand its acceptance" in his zone-of-occupation negotiations with the British and the Soviet Union.

The map was sent to Winant, but apparently with no State Department backing or instructions or seemingly any indication that it was the President's proposal. Winant apparently didn't know what to do with it. It was a map without any backup. Apparently nothing was done, therefore, with this proposal.

So the United States ended up with no plan at all.

MEANWHILE, the British had circulated, in January, 1944, a proposal that would give the Russians 40 per cent of Germany, put Berlin 110 miles within the Russian zone of occupation, but under joint control. The Russians hadn't asked for this much of Germany, but they accepted this proposal quickly without any of their usual bargaining. This suggested to some observers that the plan gave the Reds considerably more than they had expected to get. There were, in fact, indications that Stalin had expected to occupy Germany only east of Berlin.

The U.S. hadn't accepted the British plan, even though the Soviet Union had. Months went by. Apparently there was a great deal of pressure brought by one source or another on high U.S. officials to accept the British-proposed Russian zone as a fait accompli. Stories were circulated that it would "wound" the Russians if what they thought they were getting under the British proposal were to be taken away from them by the U.S.

IN MAY, 1944, the President apparently reversed himself. He accepted the British idea of a Russian occupation zone encompassing all of eastern Germany and extending 110 miles west of Berlin. He accepted the idea of not asking for written access rights to Berlin.

This Presidential decision came right after a quick trip that George Kennan, then advisor to Winant, made to the U.S. in April. Kennan talked to the President. Some sources imply Kennan was responsible for the President's reversal. But the late Adm. William D. Leahy, who was present, afterward gave no indication to friends that Kennan had discussed access routes.

Although the President reversed himself and accepted the big Russian zone without question, he then got into a long and involved fight with the British over what part of Germany that remained should be held by the British and what by the Americans.

When that fight was settled, U.S negotiators in Europe, who argued with the Russians not at all about access routes to Berlin through the Russian zone, got into a hard-fisted fight with the British over access routes to the sea through the British zone. The U.S. negotiators insisted not only on a carefully written description of the access routes to the sea through the British zone, but insisted further that these access-to-the-sea routes through the British zone be controlled by Americans.

Officials involved in these negotiations are unable to explain why their instructions compelled them to be so insistent in the one case and so uninsistent in the other.

STATE DEPARTMENT officials talking privately say that high American officials in 1944 and 1945 believed they could win over the Russians if the U. S. showed its complete trust and confidence in the Soviet Union by bending over backwards without seeming to doubt them in any way. There was a good deal of belief in high circles at that time that the Russians could be charmed into the circle of nations, one diplomat admits.

It turned out they couldn't be.

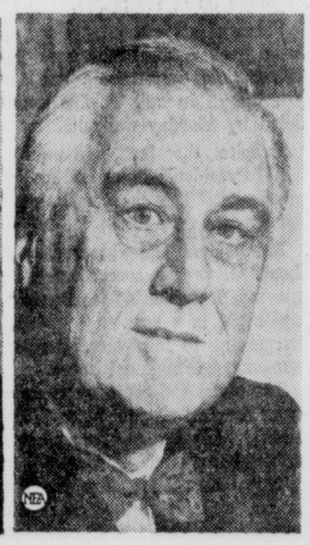

(Next: Two lost chances in 1945.)

THIS IS A PHOTOGRAPH OF THE MAP on which President Roosevelt in November, 1943, drew his proposed occupation zones. The U. S. was to hold the northwest portion, the British the southwest. The Soviets were to have only that German territory roughly east of Berlin. The final agreement placed the Soviet zone 110 miles west of the city. The British wound up in the northwest and the Americans in the southwest.

MARSHALL: He put it into channels.

ROOSEVELT: He drew the map.

Rockefeller Kin Arrested In Desegregation Attempt

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Mississippi authorities jailed the Rev. Robert L. Pierson—son-in-law of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller—and 14 other white and Negro Episcopal priests Wednesday following their attempt to desegregate a Jackson bus terminal.

The 15 priests—12 whites and three Negroes — entered the bus terminal's white waiting room. Two patrolmen ordered them out. They refused to move.

Police Capt. J. L. Ray, who has handled most of the more than 300 "Freedom Rider" arrests in this Mississippi capital city was summoned. He ordered the arrest of the priests on breach of peace charges after they again refused to move on.

The 15 were participating in a "Prayer Pilgrimage" which left New Orleans Tuesday and proceeded without incident until they reached Jackson. Twenty-three white and five Negro Episcopal priests started the pilgrimage.

It was the first arrest for Pierson, 35, of New York City and Evanston, Ill. His wife is Ann Rockefeller, one of the New York governor's five children.

After a meal in jail of cornbread, peas and meat, the minister said that police had been polite and that the treatment was satisfactory.

He said he had no plans to get out of jail but hoped that "churches" around the nation will be concerned enough to come to our help."

"I admire all of them," Rockefeller said in Rochester, N.Y.

"I admire the courage and dedication of these young people to the basic precepts on which this country was founded and their dedication to the cause of making a reality out of these precepts."

The New York governor, asked if he plannned to intercede, replied, "I know he wouldn't expect any special treatment or want it."

The ministers, who had spent Monday night at a Negro YMCA in New Orleans, traveled by chartered bus to Jackson where they stayed overnight at nearby Tougaloo Southern Christian College, a Negro school.

Those arrested had tickets for Chattanooga, Tenn., where they had planned to visit the church's University of The South at nearby Sewanee.

At War With a Shadow

An ominous note has been sounded.

The Soviet Union has told the West that East Germany has the right to regulate all foreign travel to East Berlin.

It has told the Western Allies their complaints should be taken up with the East German government. This is the prelude to telling them that East Germany has the right to regulate foreign travel to West Berlin as well as East Berlin.

If they have the right to do the one, they have a presumed right to do the other. That's why an ominous note has been sounded.

West Berlin is an outpost that could be put under siege any time, as it was put under siege in 1948-49. On that occasion, the siege failed because of the Berlin airlift. But the thing that never has been thought through is that the Berlin airlift would have failed if it had been opposed by Russian air power.

As it turned out, the airlift was the tremendous price the Western Allies, chiefly the United States, paid for the ransom of beleaguered Berlin.

THERE COULD BE no airlift without Russian forbearance. If Allied cargo planes were attacked by Russian fighter planes and Allied fighter planes took to the air to defend them, war would have begun.

The typical Communist twist in all this would be that the war would have begun between the United States and the puppet state of East Germany. The Russian planes would be piloted by East German aviators.

The United States would try to broaden it out to a war between the United Nations and the Communist Conspiracy. But in fact the Korean war was between the United States and a shadow nation called the People's Democratic Republic of Korea. Before it was suspended, the war was between the United States and the People's Republic of China.

Never was the real opponent's identity involved in either the fighting or the negotiations to end the fighting.

THIS IS THE way it would be if the United States became involved in war with the German Democratic Republic. It would be fighting a shadow, just as it and its allies soon may be negotiating with a shadow over their right to possess something the shadow has taken away.

The German Democratic Republic—East Germany—will become the antagonist of the Western Allies, if the Soviet Union presses for a showdown on Berlin. The Kremlin will let its puppet state have the distinction of tangling with the great United States—the same bitter plank it played when it let the United States come to grips with the People's Republic of Korea and achieve, of all things, a truce.

Is It Always Like This In New York?

Moral Positions In Steel

Decision-makers in the steel industry have been studying a letter from the White House word by word, to see what they can learn about President Kennedy's thinking on higher price for their products.

Like the late Calvin Collidge's cryptic comment on the preacher's position on sin, the gist of the White House letter on the prospect of rising steel prices can be summed up like this: He's against it.

But passages in the presidential letter reveal more about John F. Kennedy's thinking than the bare fact of his opposition to price increases for steel.

He points out that the industry has been absorbing increases in employment costs since 1958. If steel's decision-makers were now to forego a price increase, declares the President, the industry "would enter collective bargaining negotiations next year with a record of three and a-half years of price stability. It would clearly then be the turn of the labor representatives to limit wage demands to a level consistent with continued price stability. The moral position of the steel industry next spring—and its claim to the support of public opinion—will be strengthened by the exercise of price restraint now."

PRESIDENT KENNEDY, in this reasoning, tries to make it appear that forbearance by steel management now, when steel workers are about to cash in on an automatic increase provision in their current contract, would entitle the industry to union forbearance next year.

This shows astonishing naivete.

The steel industry's past attempts to hold the line on prices have been coldly disregarded by union bargainers. They make no secret of their belief that they are interested only ir as big a share as they can corner of the industry's productivity. They have shown no inclination to worry about inflation, or anything else, least of all the international balance of payments, which President Kennedy says he is worried about at this time.

THEY HAVE STUCK to what they call "bread-and-butter unionism," which means getting all they can get. This is the counterpart of the industry's own firm pursuit of profit-making and the government's pursuit of tax revenues.

There is no morality in these matters.

If the steel industry holds the price line this year while its employes are claiming an automatic wage increase, that will cut no ice in 1962 contract negotiations.

The industry's "moral position" of 1961 will have no bearing on negotiations in 1962—and decision-makers in the steel industry must have been astonished run across such an idea on White House stationery.

Potteries Plight

Most people in the pottery district, which includes Sebring, Salem, East Palestine and East Liverpool, are well-aware of the damage caused by foreign competition. Imports are affecting production to the point where plants have been forced to lay off help and in some instances close.

The situation is serious. The ceramic industry, in effect, has its back to the wall.

What can you do to help?

Well, whether you realize it or not you can join with the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters in its campaign to get Congress to establish higher tariffs or institute an import quota system. Just write a letter to Congressman Wayne L. Hays or Senators Frank Lausche and Stephen Young in Washington, D. C., and let them know your sentiments.

If they don't hear from you, they can assume you don't care.

You would care, on the other hand, if the Salem China Co. or another district pottery had to close, a victim of economic strangulation brought on by foreign imports.

To All Of Us

Because the City of Salem experienced no pedestrian traffic fatalities in the past two years, the Police Department has been awarded a certificate of commendation by the American Automobile Association and its county affiliate.

Actually, the commendation should have gone to every person in the city, each motorist and each pedestrian, but that was nigh unto impossible. The credit goes to the driver who was courteous and alert for the lowly pedestrian and also to the man and woman afoot who, whether agile or lucky, managed to keep out of the way of cars and trucks.

Tip to fishermen: Hurry and get your story in before all the big fish have gotten away.

It would seem more logical if criminals instead of everything else were blamed for crime waves.

There is nothing gained when you bury the hatchet and keep the hammer out.

The key to success usually can open a nice bank account.

Inside Labor By Victor Riesel

GETTYSBURG, Pa. There is an old room here in an old house in which a president of the United States once rested for an hour. An artificial breeze waltzes a curtain in and out of a prop window. A voice rehearses a speech which begins, "Four score and seven. . ." That is recorded history.

Victor Riesel

There is another room in a nearby house where history was made the other Monday—history which has gone unrecorded until now. This latter-day ex-President by name of Dwight D. Eisenhower sat with an old partner, Richard Nixon and heard the younger man outline plans which would lead the visitor once more to a fight for the presidency.

Eisenhower listened. He would not give Nixon any advice, he said. But if he were in Nixon's shoes, he added, he would run for governor of California.

NO ONE who has been in government service, said Ike, and has worked for the public as long as you have, should avoid running if called.

Richard Nixon—as was first predicted in this column—said he planned to run. He would, he added, declare openly, probably on Friday, Sept. 15 or thereabout.

The ex-President said he would be delighted to come and help campaign in California—if Nixon wanted it. Nixon did.

They reminisced. Ike said he would have been happy to have campaigned longer and more intensely the last time had he been called on.

Something was said about TV debates. Mr. Eisenhower always had been opposed to them.

That was on Aug. 28. They agreed to meet in Washington two days later.

THEN MR. NIXON went to Washington and some skull sessions with what the political boys call the "Chowder and Marching Society"—the group of younger congressmen who had worked with the former vice president when first he hit the Hill.

Among them were such men as Rep. Bob Wilson of San Diego and Rep. Bill Ayres of Akron. They urged him to run. The next day, the image was complete. "Dick and Ike" golfed in Washington for all to see.

Between the rehearsal for that hole-in-one and Nixon's departure for New York City, he holed-up with nothing but a telephone.

He telephoned the experts, including some labor people. He absorbed briefings like a Roger Maris fan absorbing Babe Ruth sagas.

To Nixon the past was prelude. He was brought up to date on everything from Latin America to the auto crisis to the last strand of Berlin's barbed wire.

Then he headed for New York.

He settled some private business and set up some national TV hookups. He came to Gotham knowing that his friends still control much of the national political machinery, the national committee chairmanship and the leadership of the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee.

But what of his old dueling partner Nelson Rockefeller.

NIXON WAS TOLD that the "nerve center" of the opposition—somewhere in the three floor complex the pivot of which is the 56th floor of 30 Rockefeller Plaza—had indeed been tingling.

Some of the best men of the old Tom Dewey and Dwight Eisenhower teams had been brought in quietly. They had been working hard and quite brightly on at least one major project. They wanted to make New York City the showpiece of successful Republican political operations.

A Republican success in the big city's mayoralty election this year obviously would help Gov. Rockefeller take New York State next year like Hannibals' elephants took the Alps.

Had Nixon stayed another week he would have seen this Operation Showpiece turned into a shambles by Mayor Robert Wagner's stripping the Tammany tiger into a patchwork rag.

NOW BOB WAGNER is certain to beat the Republican candidate for mayor this fall by almost half a million votes. This will give the appearance of Wagner defeating Rockefeller himself. Rockefeller's strategists will not be able to point to the City of New York mayoralty election as a sign of "Rocky's" personal appeal.

This will not do the governor any good in his drive for re-election in 1962—the same year Richard Nixon will be gunning against California's Gov. Pat Brown.

If Nixon wins that one handily and Rockefeller does not do handsomely, the California has the 1964 presidential nomination clinched.

If there is a reverse play—then Dick Nixon is in the private law business for keeps.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Our daughter will be going away to college soon and I know only too well that the next step is marriage. What worries me is how will she be able to manage a home of her own when she can't fry an egg, much less put a meal together?

Before you jump down my throat, let me tell you that I've tried to teach her but she's never shown any interest in learning how to sew on a button or prepare a roast.

In this day and age there's a lot of teen-age activity — early dating, parties, swimming, skating, TV—and naturally, every girl must have her own telephone. You'll have to admit, Ann, that teen-agers are different today than when you and I grew up.

How can we teach a daughter to be a homemaker when she won't stay home long enough to learn?—OLD SCHOOL.

Dear Old School: Teen-agers ARE different than when we grew up — but so are parents. They are at home less, they are occupied with outside interests, they are often too permissive (and sometimes downright collapsible under pressure).

There are 24 hours in every day. If you've allowed your daughter to spend all her time entertaining herself, then you must accept the blame for her deficiencies.

Of course a 12-year-old would rather munch popcorn in front of a TV set than peel potatoes or set a table. But, as her mother, you should have insisted that she give you a hand with the cleaning and cooking and ironing — not because you needed her help but because SHE needed to learn the domestic skills.

Office Looters

Dear Ann: I hate a stool pigeon and I refuse to be one but I no longer can sit silently by and ignore a sickening and vicious practice which has been going on under my nose for much too long.

I work in a fine office. The building is beautiful and the working conditions are first rate. It's a great organization and the employes are treated extremely well by management.

Yet I see people walk out of here with typewriters, adding machines, photographic equipment—and table lamps and potted plants from the reception room. They carry off framed paintings, hatracks and just about anything that isn't nailed down.

Is there something I can do about this short of turning in the names of the stealers? This I refuse to do.—I. C. PLENTY.

Dear I. C. Plenty: Yes. You can write a signed letter to the management, detailing your shift and department and suggest that they post deputized guards at the exits. In this way employes can be stopped if they try to walk out with company property.

A Trip Or A Lift?

Dear Ann: A woman in our crowd took a trip to Europe (she said) and was away for two months. She came back looking 15 years younger. She said she had the most marvelous rest of her life. I'm sure she had her face lifted.

I've spent too many summers (and winters) in the sun and have many unwanted wrinkles. I've flirted with the idea of having plastic surgery but until now I was afraid of the results.

Shall I ask her who did it or would she be insulted?—N.

Dear N.: Ask her — but make certain no one else is present.

Nikita Unmasked

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Russian Hypocritical About Rights of Enslaved

Many people wonder why American newspapers give extensive space to Nikita Khrushchev's views. For the Soviet Union rigidly censors its own press and keeps the people there from reading what the President and secretary of state of the United States and leaders in our Congress have to say on world affairs.

David Lawrence

There is, of course, no justification for withholding Khrushchev's statements from the American people. To publish them is sound journalism.

It is important, however, to print the other side — the American side — that is, to interpolate for the benefit of the American reader the meaning of some of the Soviet premier's strange statements and to call attention to his misuse of words.

Thus, the New York Times the other day devoted two whole pages to the story and text of a very interesting interview with Mr. Khrushchev obtained in Russia by C. L. Sulzberger, one of the most capable of American correspondents in Europe.

Mr. Khrushchev periodically gives many hours of his precious time as head of a large government to what seems to him is a very useful means of getting his views across to the American people.

The American writers accurately reproduce his statements at length, and many readers who do not follow some of these matters too closely find themselves reading what appears to them to be reasonable and often seemingly persuasive arguments.

THE "VOICE OF AMERICA," moreover, doesn't get in a year as good a penetration of the Soviet Union's listeners and readers as Mr. Khrushchev gets in a single day in the United States through a lengthy interview with some well-known American correspondent.

This writer would find it personally obnoxious to sit down with Nikita Khrushchev for an interview or any other conversation because the Soviet premier is not a man who tells the truth. Mr. Khrushchev is as quick to tell a lie to a foreign newsman as he is to order an East German citizen to jail for listening to a foreign news broadcast.

Mr. Khrushchev's words, however, do make news, and those who interview him, as well as the newspapers which bring those views are, to be sure, performing a journalistic function that is well recognized.

At the same time, shouldn't the American reader be given a chance to read in that same day's issue an interpolation that exposes paragraph by paragraph Mr. Khrushchev's mendacity?

FOR SEVERAL DAYS recently news was deliberately withheld from the Soviet people that their government had actually conducted nuclear tests, despite Mr. Khrushchev's earlier pledges that he would not do so unless the other side made such tests first.

It was only after Indian Prime Minister Nehru had revealed this information at a rally in Moscow that the Soviet premier confirmed it in vague words, without telling the people that the government had up to that time made at least four such tests and that they were all exploded in the atmosphere.

Millions of Soviet citizens still do not know that their premier has broken faith with the world. Nor will they ever be permitted to read American comments which point out the glaring untruths in the Khrushchev interview in the New York Times, wherein, for instance, he says:

"We do not recognize that any country has a right to fight a war for the liberation of another country. . . .

"We recognize a people's right to wage a struggle for its liberation — that is something different. Take Algeria, for example."

Why not take Hungary, or East Germany.

THE RECORD of the Soviet troops stationed in all the satellite countries is well known. The severity of their measures of oppression and suppression has been established before the United Nations.

But Mr. Khrushchev can still sit down with leading American writers and get extensive space in American and European newspapers as he repeats, again and again, his lie that he recognizes the right of an enslaved people to rise up and fight a war of liberation to regain their independence. Yet he and his Communist forces have taken that same independence away from them and he tells a boldfaced lie when he says: "We are prepared to help them in every way we can."

Wait'll Next Year

By TRUMAN TWILL

You look at the standings of the baseball clubs and marvel at the way the early bloomers wilted when the sun got hot and the infields got hard. . . and you sigh, "Wait'll next year."

Come April, hope will spring eternal as if it never had been dashed to the ground. The same lumpies and misfits who finished out of the money and almost out of sight this year will seem to be 10 feet high again, all with the grace of panthers and the skill of the mighty Ruth.

Everything will be "coming up roses" in Spring.

The garden that now is a tawdry mess of flourishing weeds and sickly plants will look like the lithographs in the seed catalog when it's time for next year's seed-burying.

The flowers will be the envy of the florists—next year.

The lawn will attract greenskeepers from the better golf courses who will offer money for the secret of all grass and no weeds.

Photographers will turn their backs on Cypress Gardens to take pictures of the beautiful vistas at your place—Ruritania Slum.

Next year you will learn to swim like a fish, instead of the floundering hog you swam like this year.

Next year you will find opportunities to go to all the places to see all the things you have been wanting to go to and see every summer since that what's-his-name Truman was in the White House.

You will learn how to take the perennial Berlin crisis in stride, keep abreast of the summer reading you intend to do every summer and get up early enough to get your work done so you can reap the claimed benefits of daylight time.

Just wait'll next year. . .

Next year you will be calm, cool and systematic about Summer You won't rush into it like a fool at the first rustle of Spring and spend all the days until Fall trying to get things organized.

You'll find the aphids before they've done irreparable damage.

You'll counteract the blights, rusts and spots that ruin everything not previously ruined by red spiders, cutworms and borers; there must be something a man can do, by cracky, and you'll do it—next year.

Why, with a little luck, you will grow hair on your head next year, because next year everything will be possible. It always is.

If it weren't, the game would have been called because of darkness and despair a million years ago.

Our Readers

A Few Questions Asked

If the question of the proposed City Charter serves no other purpose than to stir voters' interest in city government, it has served its purpose.

The time has arrived to probe the actions of our city government from the resident's viewpoint. What has this city government done in the recent past and proposed for the future for the individual taxpayer?

Sixteen per cent of the residential streets benefit from the use of the street sweeper; the street paving encompasses the downtown area, the parking lot (in which the merchants participated) will benefit the downtown area, the overpass will be located in an area of the fewest Salem residents. These actions are but a few of those accomplished and contemplated.

The individual has been sold on the need for an income tax, on the need for a longer term for the mayor for long-range planning, he will have to pay five cents to park for a half-hour in the downtown area, and is sacrificing parking in the residential areas.

What has the resident benefited? New or improved streets? Relief from storm sewer problems? More efficient services?

Think of these things and then make your feelings known.

We'll Call You

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—At one time or another every husband has told his wife sternly:

"Now, don't phone me any more at the office. I'm being paid to work there, remember, not to waste company time listening to personal calls."

But it really doesn't do much good, does it?

A business firm may even formally ban during office hours all personal calls except those of an emergency nature. That doesn't do much good either.

To a wife any message she decides she wants to communicate to her husband is always of an emergency nature. And, by heaven and Alexander Graham Bell, she intends to get that message through.

If all the hours spent by husbands listening to their wives on company time could be put to constructive use, well—we'd have a missile on the moon by this weekend.

Wives who phone their husband on the job fall into several classes.

Every office switchboard operator is familiar with these types:

Barometric Bertha — She confuses her husband with the U.S. Weather Bureau. "I may go uptown later," she phones. "Tell me what it's like out—hot or cold? Do you think it will rain? What about the humidity?"

Five-alarm Flora—To her everything that happens at home is a disaster. Then she clears all wires to inform hubby in a voice of doom: "I just burned my finger again," or, "Guess what happened — the dishwasher just blew a gasket."

Melancholy Mabel —"Gee, honey," she whimpers into the mouthpiece. "I get so lonely and blue sitting here in this empty house all by myself. You've got the fun and excitement of your office. But what have I got? Nothing."

Maternal Matilda—"Little Bertram has learned to speak," she crows proudly. "Listen, and I'll put him on." After holding the phone to his ear for half an hour, the husband hears a faint "glub." Little Bertram has spoken!

Authoritative Agnes—She's the command type, and here are a few of her crisp orders of the day: "Remember to pick up my glasses during your lunch hour. Here's a list of what I want you to get at the store on the way home. No, they're not for tonight. I've decided you're taking me out tonight. So don't forget to get a shoe shine" etc.

There they are—just a few typical live-wire corporation wives."

Because of them a husband's office is not just an office. It is his home away from home, always reachable by telephone.

But don't call us, ladies, we'll call you!

GERMAN STUDENTS ARRIVE

CINCINNATI (AP) — Twenty-one West German business and engineering students arrived at the University of Cincinnati this week to begin 21 weeks of study before beginnng on-the-job-trainng with American firms.

RECORDER ISSUES REPORT

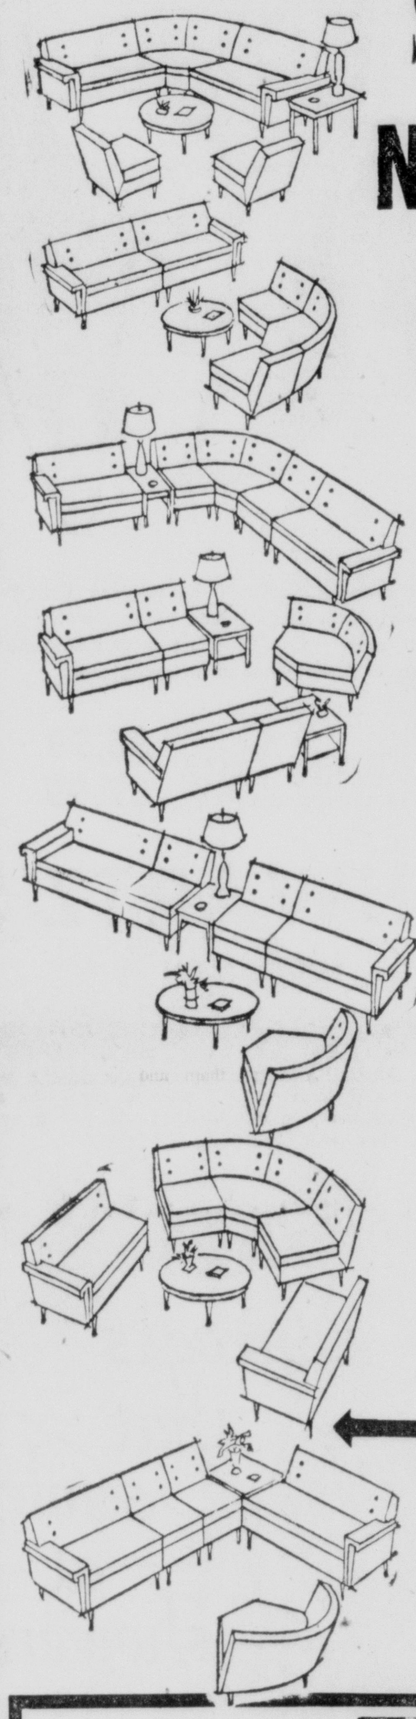

LISBON — Richard G. Brian, county recorder, reported that his office collected $2,625.90 in fees during August. It also recorded 703 instruments and filed 1,105; recorded 369 deeds; recorded 264 and cancelled 219 mortgages; and filed 1,066 and cancelled 822 chattel mortgages.

Mrs. William H. McCormick

John McCormicks Home After Trip To Canada

Having returned from a honeymoon in Canada, Mr. and Mrs. William H. McCormick will reside in their new home at 1221 Franklin Ave.

Mrs. McCormick was the former Lois L. Althouse, daughter of Mrs. Helen Althouse and the late Elmer Althouse of RD 2, Salem. Mr. McCormick is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John McCormick of 434 W. 3rd St.

Rev. Glen Althouse of Marysville, brother of the bride, officiated at the double ring ceremony Sept. 1 at 7 p.m. in the First Friends Church before an altar banked with schefflera and grape ivy and twin seven branch silver candelabra.

Mrs. Donald Hough of Salem was the soloist. Her selections were "Whither Thou Goest," "O' Promise Me" and "You'll Never Walk Alone." Jerry Wolford of Salem was organist.

The bride was escorted to the altar on the arm of her brother, Carl Althouse, and was given in marriage by her mother.

She wore a gown fashioned of Chantilly lace and tulle with long sleeves and high scalloped Sabrina neckline edged with pearls. The fitted bodice was attached to an overskirt of Chantilly lace draped with roses and swept into a cascade of lace and tulle brush train. Her illusion veil of finger tip length was attached to a crown of pearls. She carried a white Bible with ivy and white roses and stephanotis.

Miss Ruth Althouse, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor. She was dressed in a floor length gown of two tones of aqua with scooped neckline, capped sleeves and cummerbund. The dress had a bouffant skirt with a bustle back detail. Her matching hat of roses was fashioned of silk with a veil. She carried an arm bouquet of deep pink roses and white mums.

The bridesmads, Miss Sandra Ewing and Miss Ruth McCormick, were dressed in identical dresses to the matron of honor.

Cheryl Althouse of Marysville, niece of the bride, was flower girl, dressed in a white chiffon dress with aqua cummerbund.

David Althouse of Marysville, nephew of the bride, was ringbearer.

Donald McCormick of Apple Valley, Calif., served as best man. Ushers were Homer Althouse, brother of the bride, Everett Crawford of Dayton, Ross McCormick, brother of the bridegroom, and Myron Riegel of Cleveland.

The bride's mother wore a powder blue crepe and lace dress with black patent accessories and a corsage of deep pink tea roses.

The bridegroom's mother chose a pink silk organza eyelet dress with black accessories and a corsage of deep pink tea roses.

A reception was held in the church social rooms following the ceremony. The bride's table was laid in white satin with a pink net overskirt and centered with a four-tier cake, topped with white wedding bells interspersed with pink net. The cake was encircled with white and pink mums.

Hostesses serving at the reception were Mrs. Lowell Ewing, Mrs. Glen Althouse of Marysville, Miss Gale Swearinger of Kensington, Mrs. Homer Althouse of Salem, Miss Linda Sherwood of Marysville and Mrs. Donald McCormick of Apple Valley, Calif.

Mrs. James Hill of Beloit registered 350 guests from Winona, Alliance, Beloit, North Lima, Boardman, Leetonia, Salem, Marysville, Lisbon, East Liverpool, Canton, Rogers, Ark., Warren, Cleveland, Columbiana, East Rochester, Dayton and Apple Valley, Calif.

The bride is a graduate of United Local High School with the class of 1959 and is employed as a secretary at City Hospital. The bridegroom is a graduate of Salem High School with the class of 1951 and Purdue University. He is employed as an engineer with the E. W. Bliss Co.

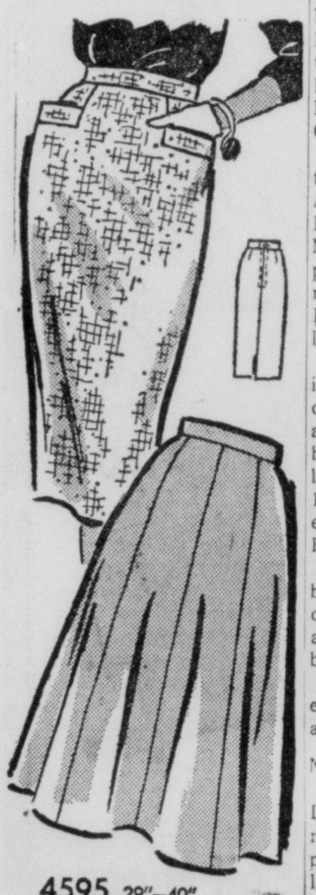

For her going away dress the bride chose a rust brown sheath dress and dark brown accessories and the corsage from her wedding bouquet.

The parents of the bridegroom entertained at the Coffee Cup with a rehearsal dinner Aug. 31.

Vaccine For Measles Test Successful

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A measles vaccine has been successfully tested in field trials among 605 children in the Philadelphia area.

Children's Hospital said today research on the vaccine "suggests that the 200-year search for a method of immunization against measles is now over."

The vaccine still must be approved by the U.S. government. If accepted, it might go on sale sometime next year, says the drug firm which plans to market it, Merck, Sharp & Dohme Laboratories.

A team of clinical investigators from Children's Hospital and the University of Pennsylvania reported on the vaccine, developed by Dr. John F. Enders of Boston and his colleagues, in today's issue of the New England Journal of Medicine.

They said it has given 100 per cent protection from measles in children during epidemics in recent months in a controlled field trial.

Half of the children in the field trial were injected with attenuated measles vaccine of the Enders type concurrently with human gamma globulin, the report said.

A large percentage of children in the trial who did not receive this type of immunization caught the measles.

A primary question which remains to be answered is the most desirable balance between the amount of standardized gamma globulin and virus in the vaccine, said Dr. Maurice R. Hilleman, a member of the research team.

Louisiana. Still others died from touching power lines snapped at the hurricane's height.

Sightseers flocked toward Galveston after ebbing waters uncovered a causeway.

To keep curious spectators from interfering with the giant rehabilitation job ahead, Texas Gov. Price Daniel ordered the National Guard to put roadblocks at the Galveston county line. He said local authorities agreed that non-essential travel was interfering with the return of refugees.

The port of Houston, closed since Carla started drawing near, was expected to reopen today. About 30 ships are anchored at Bolivar Roads outside Galveston waiting to come in.

While part of an estimated half million people fleeing before the storm were able to get back home there were still thousands of refugees at inland points.

There were no ready estimates of how long it would take to restore electricity, water and sanitary systems so the evacuees could return to dozens of smaller towns, some still partly under water.

sides," Kennedy said, "there is no need for resort to force."

Kennedy made his statement in comment on his meeting Tuesday and Wednesday with President Sukarno of Indonesia and President Modibo Keita of Mali, who came here as emissaries from the recent Belgrade conference of 25 nonaligned nations. Sukarno and Keita delivered a conference appeal to Kennedy for direct negotiations to save the world from nuclear war over Berlin. Such an appeal also was presented to Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

Keita told a news conference late Wednesday that Kennedy had said he was not opposed to a summit meeting with Khrushchev but that such a meeting must be carefully prepared. Careful preparation is said within the U.S. government to include East-West discussions among the foreign ministers which would show a reasonable basis for success at the summit.

In the first quarter of 1961 (ending April 2), Philco lost $1,605,000. Since then it has received a total of $38.6 million in defense contracts—two from the Air Force for guidance systems and a third for developing a fuse for the Sergeant missile.

Founded in 1892 as the Helios Storage Battery Co., Philco has headquarters in Philadelphia and 12 domestic plants, 75 per cent of them owned outright by Philco.

Shelters

make a sizeable difference. Fallout striking the ground or roof could be "hot" for longer periods. Stores of water and food could carry millions through the time of real hazard.

Simple shelters could be made of wood or sandbags, or dug into the foundation. Dr. Willard Libby, former member of the Atomic Energy Commission, built such a home shelter for about $50.

A prime need, everywhere, is for really cheap radiation detectors to judge hazards, and for battery-powered radios to hear official reports.

Suburban homes near big cities, on or near the fringes of blast areas, would need sturdier, more elaborate shelters to withstand shock and hotter radiation. Direct hits would wipe them out, but bombs won't fall everywhere like raindrops. Cheap but effective shelter designs are badly needed, Dr. Teller adds.

For big cities and towns, mass shelters are the safest answer, with enough of them "so people could walk to them in five to ten minutes."

"Shelters should be sealable, with fire doors. If subways were used, as in New York City, fire doors could keep air from being sucked out of tunnels and stations. Subways could be equipped this way in a matter of months with enough effort."

Basements of big buildings could provide shelter for millions of city dwellers, and future buildings should be built "to take as much over-pressure as possible," Dr. Teller says.

"The idea that any shelter should be able to withstand 200 pounds pressure per square inch is simply not feasible—it is too expensive. We have to recognize there will be some casualties. The goal is to keep them to a minimum. To make all shelters 100 per cent safe would require all kinds of expensive things."

The Soviets talk about a prodigious bomb equal to 100 million tons of TNT, and Dr. Teller says this probably could cave in a shelter 200 feet deep if the bomb exploded on the ground close by. But such a bomb "is not a militarily useful thing," and he doubts the Soviets really mean to build it.

Next: Radiation Hazards.

memo to advertisers

Measuring the audience

The performer who is more interested in the size of the audience than in the number of curtain calls spends most of his time looking for work.

The successful performer recognizes that only effective efforts build responsive audiences. He seeks applause.

The same might be said for newspaper editors.

We must serve and satisfy the editorial needs and interests of people in our area. The validity of this circulation audience and the applause readers give us is registered by the Audit Bureau of Circulations.

ABC-audited paid circulation facts measure readers response in such terms as how much they pay to receive copies, how many copies they buy, where they live, and how their copies are delivered.

As a member of this independent circulation auditing organization, we recognize the power of reader confidence — that they have chosen to be a member of this paying audience of their own volition, and that they will continue to do so only as long as we effectively serve them.

For advertisers, the significant differences between counting the audience and measuring the applause is reader response.

Ask to see a copy of our ABC report.

The Doctor Says

By DR. H. T. HYMAN

It's Fun to Be Fooled, But Not by Quacks

There's an old saying that "it's fun to be fooled." Being fooled can also be a very expensive form of amusement. Here are a few examples from the always interesting reports of products condemned by the Food and Drug Administration:

A "pony" vibrator device for figure control.

A facial exerciser for wrinkle control.

Dr. H. T. Hyman

An air purifier that claims to control infections such as acute peritonitis (lining of abdominal cavity), broncho pneumonia, meningitis, scarlet fever and diphtheria.

An electronic device that claims to diagnose and treat various diseases and conditions.

A "fingernail beautifier" that claims to prevent and correct thin, brittle or breaking nails.

A supply of honey, vinegar and kelp that claims to be useful in the treatment and prevention of chronic fatigue, kidney stones, diseases of the lungs and other serious afflictions.

Weight-reducing preparations that contain nothing but a mixture of gelatin, a sugar (sucrose) and saccharine.

A sea water concentrate that contains a mixture of elements claimed to be necessary for the maintenance of health.

A solution of a local anesthetic (procaine hydrochloride) which claim to be a rejuvenator and an effective form of treatment for nervous disorders, memory lapses, hardening of the arteries, premature aging, bronchial asthma, lumbago and other complaints. This is the so-called "miracle" preparation with which a Bucharest woman doctor claimed to revitalize 99.98 per cent of some 8,000 old persons.

"Genuine Koch Glyoxylide" for cancer patients. A solution of sterile distilled water available at a cost of $25 for an unspecified amount.

A "pure orange juice" widely sold and transported across state lines after being adulterated with sugar and water.

What makes this type of foolery even more costly, to my mind, are the facts that (1) the money spent may be taken from monies available for the purchase of legitimate and useful articles and products, and (2) that priceless time may be lost in the testing of these frauds, thus depriving the victim of the benefits of early diagnosis and prompt treatment.

Tour Is Planned of Poultry Operations

LISBON — A tour in Wayne county to view several poultry operations has been planned by the Columbiana-Mahoning Poultry Committee for Tuesday. Anyone interested may attend, Don Myers, county extension agent in agriculture, said.

Seven Wayne County farms producing eggs and broilers will be visited by the group.

Those attending may proceed directly to the first stop of the tour, Roy Farver, west of Orrville, or the Wooster Feed Manufacturing farm, just west of Dalton, beginning at 10:30 a.m.

Those wanting to double up in transportation should meet at 9 a.m. at Damascus Friends Church parking lot in Damascus.

Other poultry operations to be inspected are those of Loyal and Charles Hostetler, south of Smithville; Harry McGinn, northwest of Madisonburg; Ray Gortner, southeast of New Pittsburgh; Dwight Martin, southwest of Lattasburg, and Jerry Ladrach, south of Rittman.

The first band P. T. Barnum's circus ever had was conducted by Tall Hite, who answered an ad in the early 1870s. Hite was a resident of Jefferson, a village north of Carroll, Ohio.

Salem Gridders Host Youngstown North Friday Night

Morton To Go With Same 11; Bulldogs' Line To Be Heavier

By CARL NANDRASY

Salem fans will be witnessing two almost identical offenses Friday night as the Youngstown North Bulldogs move into Reilly Stadium attempting to get their 1961 grid season off on the right foot.

The Quaker gridders, on the other hand, will be seeking to get a winning streak going as they take the field with last week's 16 0 win over Struthers under their belts.

North Head Coach Marschall Popelka, who is beginning his second year at the helm of the Bulldogs after suffering a dismal 0-8-1 record last year, will have his boys employing a straight T formation offense, with variations off a belly series. This will be an attack similar to the one Coach Blaine Morton of the Quakers has been utilizing in past games. The only difference, noted in scouting reports, is that the Bulldogs will not send a man in motion on certain plays as do the locals.

Coach Popelka will have eight lettermen among his gridders, seven on the starting eleven. Of the seven starting lettermen, only four saw regular action last year.

Opening the game on offense at the end positions for the Bulldogs will be Fred Floyd, a 160-pound senior letterman, and Carl Stere, 180-pound junior in his first year on the varsity. Floyd's height is 5-11, while Stere towers at right end at 6-4.

COACH POPELKA'S starting tackles, which many consider the strong points on the 1961 Bulldogs team, average out at 242½ pounds and are touted to be very speedy for their size.

At left tackle will be Elwin Coe, a 215-pound senior letterman, and on the right side Angelo Perline, senior letterman regular last year at 270 pounds. All advance notice has shown that Perline may be the biggest thorn in the side of the Quakers Friday night. The Bulldogs right tackle, who some experts predict may become an all-city tackle in Youngstown this year, will outweigh the locals' heaviest player by some 60 pounds. Scouting reports indicate Perline is fast for his size on both offense and defense.

In the visitors' guard slots will be non-letterman Joe Beeson, 140-pound senior, on the left, and Anthony Pesce, 175-pound junior non-letterman, on the right.

PILOTING the Bulldogs at quarterback will be 135-pound returning letterman senior Arthur Sherman. Sherman, who made second team all-city in Youngstown last year as the North signal - caller, did not see action in last week's preview against Youngstown South due to a recent skin infection.

Doctors gave Sherman the go ahead earlier this week and he will be seeing action under fire for the first time this year. Coach Popelka says he will be using Sherman only on offense until the quarterback's strength is back to normal.

At the Bulldog halfback positions will be Pat Paris, 155-pound junior non-letterman, on the left, and John Floyd, 155-pound senior letterman, who is the brother of the left end, in the right slot.

Willy Clemons, 175-pound senior letterman, will round out the starters at fullback. Clemons was a regular guard last year, but has been moved into the backfield by Coach Popelka because of his speed and hard-driving running.

Coach Popelka was somewhat disappointed in his charges after their showing against South in a two 10-minute halves preview last Friday at the South field.

"WE JUST COULDN'T seem to move the ball on the ground at all," the North coach said. "A South punt deep into our own territory in the first half put us in a hole and hampered our wide open running game." But we looked a little better in the second half."

The Bulldogs are expected to go to the airways more than Struthers did last week. Coach Popelka's scouts at the Struthers game were highly impressed at the Salem defense against a ground attack and may find the only path to victory over the Quakers through the air.

Coach Morton and his staff of the Quakers have been putting their charges through drills during the week, working on "more of everything."

According to Morton, "You can't tell very much from previews." And he's not looking for an easy time with North. He expects North's strongest ground thrusts to come off its belly series of plays over the two big tackles. He also feels the Bulldogs will throw the pigskin around a lot, and has been working his boys on pass defense.

MORTON SAYS he will be going with the same starting line-up on offense as last week.

That means seniors John Panezott and George Esterly will be at the ends, seniors Ty Enders and Butch Crawford at the tackles, seniors Bob Steele and Roger DeCrow at guard, and junior George Johnson at center. In the backfield will be junior Bill Beery at quarterback, seniors Jim Gibb and Dave Edling at the halves, and senior Fred Kaiser at fullback.

Both teams will be almost equal in over-all weight average per player. Salem will average out to 173½ pounds among its starting 11, while the Bulldogs will go at 174 pounds.

Salem backs will hold a big advantage in weight with a 171 pound average to North's 155. Along the line, North will be heavier 185 pounds per man to the Quakers 176 pound average.

Salem has only played North once before in football, that in 1953 when the locals were victorious 6-0.

My prediction for the game: Salem 30—Youngstown North 6.

Dodgers Pennant Hopes Are Fading

LOS ANGELES (AP) — To say that the Los Angeles Dodgers' pennant hopes are fraught with peril would not be correct. The situation is worse than that.

Today the Dodgers trail the National League leading Cincinnati Reds by 5½ games, with time fast running out. This, for a team generally picked to win it all.

The club lost the fifth out of its last six games Wednesday night and you could have heard a percentage point drop in the dressing room after the 8-2 loss to Pittsburgh.

In the past two evenings Dodger pitching has given up 37 hits and 27 runs. And if you care for even more gory statistics, in the last seven games opponents have accummulated 60 runs and 84 hits, 21 of the latter home runs.

Manager Walt Alston scratched his head. No, he couldn't recall a worse two successive nightmares on the playing field.

But, declared Alston, "Nobody's given up yet."

Invitational Softball Field Cut To 18 Teams

The field was cut to 18 teams in the Salem Invitational Softball Tournament as Unionport, East Liverpool Gallaghers Market and Youngstown North Sde Merchants each lost second games in the double elimination tourney Wednesday night.

Gallaghers Market collected five hits as they downed Unionport 3-1 in the first game on last night's schedule.

The winner's Rich Jackson and Bob Gallagher got the only extra-base hits as they both smacked doubles. Five Unionport players connected for singles to account for the loser's five hits.

Howard Wilson hurled for the winners while Bill McGrew absorbed the loss.

Campbell Hillcrest Tavern slipped by Gallaghers 3-2 in an extra-innings game to drop the market-nine from the tourney.

Each team had a run at the end of the regulation seven inning contest. In the top of the eighth, with two outs, Pete Pugliano singled in Jack Gallagher to shove Gallaghers ahead 2-1. However, in the last half of the inning a triple by pitcher Elmer Krancevich and three singles accounted for two runs and gave Hillcrest the win.

Krancevich allowed only four hits and received the win while loser John Carter was smacked for 10 safeties.

Back-to-back homers by Frank Dennis and Steve Benja in the fifth inning gave the Kent All-Stars a 2-1 victory over Youngstown North Side Merchants.

The losers managed to collect only four hits from winning pitcher Benja, and scored their lone run on three All-Star errors and a walk in the fifth inning. Jack Harris was tagged for seven hits and took the loss.

In tonight's action Scott's Candies meet East Liverpool East End Merchants at 6:30 p.m. followed by third round action between Steubenville Raccoon AC and Niles Fenton St. Bar. The winner of the second game will meet Warren Adept Machine in the semi-final round at 9 p.m.

Columbus Seeks IL Playoff Title

By The Associated Press

Bobby Veale, a 14-game winner during the regular season, tries to get the Columbus Jets back on the right track at Rochester tonight when the International League pennant winners continue their bid for the league's playoff title.

Rochester, even with the Jets at one game apiece after a 2-1 triumph over Columbus Wednesday night, will start either Art Quirk (10-8) or Johnny Kucks (10-14).

In the other best-of-seven semi-final playoff, Buffalo has Bill Smith (9-7) ready to go against Charleston's Leroy Gregory (13-10) at Buffalo. The Bisons took a 2-0 lead in their series with a 7-4 victory at Charleston Wednesday night.

Right-hander Johnny Anderson scattered five hits for Rochester, four of them infield scratches, and beat the champs when Joe Durham singled and Fred Valentine hit a two-run homer with two out in the fourth.

The only Columbus run was unearned, counting on a single by Dick Gray, two errors and a sacrifice fly.

Buffalo scored five unearned runs with two out in the third to beat Charleston.

Vertebrae Injury Sidelines Chaplow

EAST PALESTINE—Bob Chaplow, 160-pound senior fullback on the Bulldogs football team, will be out of action several weeks due to injured neck vertebrae.

Chapiow was injured in the game with Canfield last week, in which he scored two touchdowns. X-rays taken this week disclosed the seriousness of the injury.

Doctors have indicated that Chaplow could be lost to the team for the remainder of the season. Bill Smith, 170-pound senior, will replace Chaplow at fullback Friday in the Bulldogs' home game with Beaver, Pa.

Rain Idles Yankees, White Sox

Indians Defeat Orioles 5-0; Tigers Blank Athletics 8-0

By The Associated Press

Rain forced the New York Yankees-Chicago White Sox game to be postponed Wednesday night and rescheduled as a doubleheader today. Both Roger Maris and Mickey Mantle figure the postponement hurts their chances of breaking Babe Ruth's home run record.

"Somehow I've never done too well in doubleheaders," said Maris, the leader with 56 home runs and a three-game edge over Ruth record 60 pace of 1927.

"I'd rather play them one game at a time," said Mantle, , three games behind the Bambino with 53 homers.

Despite this there'll likely be a doubleheader sometime today. The White Sox have set the starting time at 1:30 p.m. Eastern Standard Time but will take the whole day to complete the twin bill if necessary. In the event of a further postponement, there is an open date Monday which may be used.

While the Yanks were idled, the second-place Detroit Tigers took the opportunity to reduce the American League leaders margin to 11 games by blanking the Kansas City A's 8-0 behind Jim Bunning's five-hit pitching and home runs by Rocky Colavito and Norm Cash.

The Cleveland Indians snapped a six-game losing streak by beating Baltimore 5-0 on Gary Bell's four-hitter, and Washington beat Boston 4-2. A twi-night doubleheader between Los Angeles and Minnesota was postponed.

Maris and Mantle each got to bat once before the all-day rain finally made the field unplayable in the third with the Yankees leading 2-1. Maris singled to center and Mantle fouled out to the catcher in the first inning.

The Tigers jumped off to a 4-0 lead against A's starter Jim Archer (8-13) in the first four innings, then put it away with a four-run fifth as Colavito smacked his 42nd homer with two on and Cash followed with his 35th.

109 Pro Golfers Enter Seattle Open

SEATTLE (AP) — Headed by top money winner Gary Player of South Africa, 109 professionals were to begin today a four-day pursuit of $25,000 on a golf layout labeled "a thinking man's course" by Art Wall Jr. of Pocono Manor, Pa.

The site of the Greater Seattle Open Tournament is the Broadmoor Golf Club, which yielded a 21-under-par 259 to Byron Nelson in 1945, a mark that stood for many years as a national pro tourney record.

But Wall saw trouble in the 6,328-yard layout's narrow and tree-bordered fairways, its deep traps and variable weather.

"The wind shifted 180 degrees from Tuesday to Wednesday," Wall said. Heavy dew slows the course in the morning; warm sun speeds it in the afternoon.

Pirates Rip Dodgers; Giants Win

Jay Records 20th Victory As Reds Defeat Braves 1-0

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Joey Jay, 26-year-old Cincinnati Reds' right-hander discarded by Milwaukee after the 1960 season, became this year's first 20-game winner in the National League Wednesday night by beating his former Braves' teammates 1-0 with a four-hitter.

He also scored the game's only run in the fifth inning.

The Pittsburgh Pirates, with reliever Harvey Haddix pitching two-hit ball over the final eight innings, beat second-place Los Angeles 8-2 and dropped the Dodgers 5½ games back of the league-leading Reds. Any combination of nine Cincinnati victories and-or Los Angeles defeats will give the Reds the NL flag.

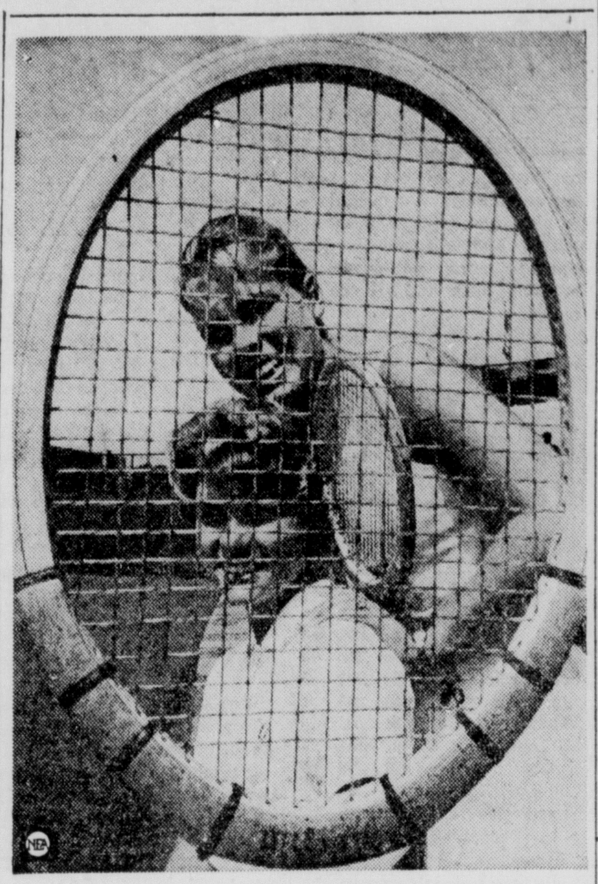

San Francisco's Giants moved into a tie for third place with the Braves by defeating last-place Philadelphia 8-2. The Chicago-St. Louis game was rained out.

In the American League, the first-place New York Yankees were idled by rain at Chicago. Second-place Detroit whipped Kansas City 8-0 and cut their deficit to 11 games, Cleveland blanked Baltimore 5-0 and Washington bopped Boston 4-2. The Los Angeles-Minnesota twi-nighter was rained out.

Jay (20-9), first Cincinnati hurler to enter the 20-game circle since Ewell Blackwell won 22 in 1947, completely handcuffed the team that signed him for $20,000 in 1953 and traded him to the Reds last winter. Jay scored the Reds' run on a two-out single to center by Vada Pinson. Carl Willey (5-11) was the loser.

Bill Mazeroski's second homer, with one on against reliever Dick Farrell (8-7) snapped a 2-2 tie in the eighth inning and sent the Dodgers crashing to their fifth loss in six games. Dick Stuart also homered for the Pirates, his 30th. Haddix (9-6) came in when Bob Friend retired due to a stiff shoulder after giving up two runs in the first.

Rookie right-hander Jim Duffalo (4-0), recalled from Tacoma Monday, practically got the job done for the Giants singlehandedly in his first major league start. He limited the Phils to six hits and drove in four runs—three with his first big league homer. Dallas Green (2-4) took the loss.

FRAMED—Cathy Lee Crosby and her sister, Linda Lou (top), from Arcadia, Calif., make a pretty picture as they peek through a racket. Cathy, 16, and Linda, 17, were competing in the National Tennis Championships at Forest Hills, N. Y., when they were framed by the photographer.

Field Reduced To Sixteen

Nicklaus Takes Favorite's Role In National Amateur

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Collegiate champion Jack Nicklaus, with a "road map" he hopes will guide him to his second National Amateur title, had belted his way into the favorite's position today.

He and Joe Carr of Dublin have proved the stars of a field now reduced to 16 players with only four to remain by nightfall.

Ex-champs Harvie Ward and Charlie Coe and colorful Billy Joe Patton were among the upset victims Wednesday as the standout amateurs played two rounds. Carr was the only survivor of the ten starting foreigners.

After Nicklaus, 21, , the Ohio State University ace, beat big Dave Smith of Gastonia, N.C., 2 and 1 in Wednesday's fourth round with a 4-under-par effort, he declared he has been having trouble judging distances on the 6,747-yard Pebble Beach course.

So he refers to diagrams and yardages he has noted on an expanded scorecard and carries in his right hip pocket.

Three-time British champion Carr, 39, a dress manufacturer, eliminated little Sam Marsh of Greenville, S.C., 2 and 1.

For today's fifth round, Nicklaus drew New York veteran Johnny Humm while Carr faced Chuck Courtney, 20,, captain of the San Diego State College team. Courtney beat Walker cupper Dr. Frank Taylor 2-up in their fourth round meeting.

Today's opening matches, in addition to those featuring Nicklaus and Carr, are:

Ed Hopkins, Abilene, Tex., vs. Dud Wysong Jr., McKinney, Tex.; Dick Sikes, Springdale, Ark., vs. Richard Norville, Oklahoma City; Gene Francis, East Williston, N.Y., vs. Frank Hoover, Bakersfield, Calif.; Sam Carmichael, Martinsville, Ind., vs. Ken Finke, Tucson, Ariz.; Sonny Methvin, Little Rock, vs. Dick Hanen, Coos Bay, Ore., and Charlie Smith, Gastonia, N.C., vs. Marvin Olshan, Harrison, N.Y.

Francis, 23, a former Purdue star, eliminated two-time champion Coe. Ward, of San Francisco, national champ in 1955-56, fell before Wysong, 22, 4 and 3. The Texan then beat Britain's Ronnie Shade 3 and 2.

Sikes, 20, captain of the University of Arkansas team, beat Patton 4 and 2.

Cronin Asks Drop Of Game Limit On M-M

CHICAGO (AP) — American League president Joe Cronin said today if New York's Roger Maris or Mickey Mantle hit 61 home runs in the regulation 162-game schedule, it must be regarded as a new record.

Rain prevented Mantle and Maris from continuing their bid Wednesday night to move up on Babe Ruth's 34-year-old record of 60 homers in one season.

Maris has hit 56 in the Yankee's 146 games (including a tie), and Mantle has 53.

Roger is thre games ahead of Ruth's pace and Mantle is three behind.

A getaway doubleheader between the Yankees and the Chicago White Sox was scheduled for this afternoon.

Cronin said he did not wish to become involved in any dispute with Ford Frick.

At the same time, he added, he could see no logic in the commissioner's ruling which specifies that Ruth's 60 homers in 1927 must be topped in 154 decisions to count as a new standard.

"After all, Ruth hit his 60 in 151 games," said Hall of Famer Cronin, a contemporary of Ruth when he was the star shortstop and manager of the Washington Senators in the early 1930s.

"Therefore, if a person wants to be technical he can say the record counts only if either Maris or Mantle hit 61 homers in as many games as Ruth did.

"I respect the commissioner's feelings about the matter, but as far as I'm concerned, it will be a record if either or both do it in 162 games."

Squirrel Season Starts Friday

State Divided Into Two Hunting Zones

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Dawn on Friday is the time an estimated quarter million Ohioans have been waiting for . . . start of a squirrel hunting season that is expected to be average, or perhaps a bit better in bag prospects.

Field men of the Ohio Division of Wildlife made the prediction of an "average" or "better" season.

Daily bag limit is four squirrels, possession limit eight after the first day. Hunting hours are from daylight to dark.

Ohio is zoned for squirrel hunting this year with Zone 1, the hill country, open until dark on Nov. 11. The Zone 2 season comprising the rest of the state, closes at dark on Oct. 28. The old hunting licenses expired Aug. 31, and the boundry between the two zones is shown in detail on the hunting digest issued with each 1961 hunting license.

Hunters are warned that the season for squirrels always produces numerous accidents, and the gunners are urged to look carefully before shooting.

For the hunter who doesn't know where to go, a half million acres of public hunting land, most of it in southeastern Ohio, offers top quality squirrel hunting. The Division of Wildlife at 1500 Dublin Road, Columbus, can supply a free bulletin listing all public hunting acreage.

The Ohio Division of Wildlife is seeking a lease on 1,000 to 1,400 acres of farm land, with good cover for upland game, lying in Fayette, western Pickaway or Madison counties, Dvision spokesmen said the land need not be under one ownership, but the area must be in a contiguous block and contain at least 1,000 acres. The division is prepared to pay up to $1 an acre lease fee for land that meets the requirements for good pheasant and rabbit areas.

Dan Armbruster, District 3 fish management supervisor, says another muskie made the big trip downstream from the Deer Ceek Reservoir to Lake Milton this year. Test netters at the lake caught a 37½-inch, 18-pound muskie. The only muskies stocked in this watershed were placed in the Deer Creek Reservoir as fry in 1955. Thus, that muskie evidently made the trip over the 20-foot Deer Creek Dam, crossed 15-mile-long Berlin Reservoir, dropped 54 feet over the reservoir dam and ended up in Lake Milton. The fish was tagged and released.

The new, 65-acre Spencer Lake in Medina County recently received its first planting of fish. The Division of Wilflife stocked lake with 2,100 chain pickerel, one and a half to three inches long; 65,000 largemouth bass, and 10,000 adult minnows. Adult bluegills will be planted this fall.

Dale Roach, wildlife patrolman and acting Hamilton County game protector, says catfish anglers have had a bonanza fishing in the Ohio River this summer. Stringers of 30 to 40 channel catfish are not rare among anglers who fish from the Ohio bank, he said. Most popular bait is canned luncheon meat.

Poland Polo Finals To Be Held Sunday

Jim Watson and Phil Thompson, both of Columbiana, will play in the finals of the Chad Johnston Memorial Polo Tournament to be held Sunday at the Poland Polo Field.

Watson plays for the Beaver Valley Polo Club while Thompson is a member of the Columbus Farms Polo Club. The two teams will meet for the consolation cup at 2 p.m. followed by the Mahoning Valley club playing Cleveland Polo Club at 4 p.m. for the championship.

Fears Gamblers Have Gotten To Players

Hayes Says Grid Fixes Will Be Aired

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State football Coach Woody Hayes said Wednesday night he guessed collegiate football has been touched, slightly, by the same type of gambling scandal which has rocked college basketball.

"It has happened—to no great degree—but I think it has happened," Hayes said during a talk to a group of touring sports writers on the responsibility of coaches, school officials and writers in protecting college gridders against gamblers.

"Ironically, one place it did happen was in a small college," said Hayes. "And a guy who kicked basketball was supposed to have kicked at least one football game last fall."

Hayes said the current investigation of bribery in New York in which only basketball fixes have been aired would unveil some football disclosures before it is over, hitting several more schools other than the one small college which Hayes did not identify. Neither did he identify the player supposedly involved in both basketball and football fixes.

His remarks came after he earlier said:

"There can be only one great tragedy to happen to football. It is to have the same thing happen to it that happened to basketball. That is a great, great tragedy and it could happen just as quickly or quicker in football."

Anticipitation, Hayes said, was the only way to wipe out the gamblers who try to fix players. He pointed out that in basketball most of the affected players were students who came from some distance to their schools.

"I told one of our out-of-state boys when he went home this summer, " 'If some guy makes a friend of you for no obvious reason and the guy offers you a good price on a wrist watch, or lets you use his car, even if its 2 o'clock in the morning, you have my phone number. You call me right now. Lets get with it.' "

Hayes said that coaches needed support from their deans on cleaning out spotcards (gambling parlay cards) from dormitories and other campus sites.

"Those things have to go right now," said Hayes, "and you fellows (sportswriters) have to back us up on that if you think anything of collegiate football."

Hayes said one Big Ten football coach warned his conference colleagues to be suspicious of a football candidate who is quite aways from home and is not known too well by the coach.

"This kid gets hurt real early and what you do, you feel you owe it to the kid that he gets treatment in the training room, said Hayes. "Then you find he's always in the training room and he can see who is injured and who isn't. He can call the syndicate and give the information on injured players. You also have to be careful of these guys who always hang around your practice and locker rooms. That puts you in a precarious position and you have to throw everybody out.

"We've got to anticipate every angle that those crooks could use in getting a hold of a boy. And they'll pick their pigeons ahead of time. You see, when you are dealing with a gambler he's ahead of you. He is in his business. That's the thing that's so darn tough about it; when a kid fumbles or has an interception people say, 'See, he's been bought off or something.' That's the thing scares the daylights out of me.

"You've got to stay on top of this thing. You've got to make the player realize what an awful thing he could do to himself and his family."

Michaels, Vet Browns Star, Still Potent

CLEVELAND (AP) — Walt Michaels, veteran Cleveland Browns linebacker is 31 years old,, but he's starting his 11th year in the rugged National Football League and his 10th with the Browns.

What are some of the reasons Walt has stuck in the big league so long?

For the past six seasons defensive coach Howard Brinker has watched the six-foot, 237-pound Michaels call the defensive signals—a job that requires intelligence and good football instinct.

"Walt is a smart fellow and he has done a good job," Brinker says. "We talk things over during the week and in the pre-game meeting. He knows our thinking but he has a number of calls he can make according to the situation. The final selection is up to him."

Brinker also has an answer to how Michaels gets the job done even though he's one of the slowest of the line backers.

"He doesn't have straightaway speed but he shuffles around pretty good back there," explained the coach. "He has fine balance and is a sure tackler. That balance may be the most important thing."

The Browns drafted Michaels as their 11th choice in 1951 and then traded him to Green Bay the same year. Paul Brown swapped to get him back and he became a regular in 1952.

Michaels played four seasons at fullback for Washington and Lee, averaging 5.5 yards per carry.

The big fellow is in fine physical shape this year and is looking forward to his 1961 season.

"We've been out of that championship game too long," says Michaels. "And I need the money for my new house."

This Could Save Your Life

Research on ways to escape from a submerged auto has been going on at Williamston, Mich. It is the joint effort of the Michigan State Police, Indiana University and the American Red Cross.

At top, car is released down ramp at eight miles per hour. Bottom, splash! It hits, shattering windshield. Car sank in 15 seconds.

Some test cars stayed afloat three minutes. SCUBA divers, from a state police unit, study sunken cars for air pockets and best escape methods.

Blueberry Cobbler Easy to Make

GAYNOR MADDOX

In the good old days, a rich purple blueberry cobbler was part of good living. It can be today, but without all the preparation required in grandma's time. By using a package of easy coffee cake mix you cut time, dishwashing and guess work. Serve warm with a dollop of cool sour cream.

OLD-FASHIONED BLUEBERRY COBBLER
(Makes 8 servings)

Blueberry Base

2 pints fresh blueberries, ¾ cup sugar, 1 tablespoon flour, 1 teaspoon lemon juice, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine.

Topping

1 package easy coffee cake mix, 1 egg, unbeaten, ½ cup orange juice, Commercial sour cream.

Heat oven to moderate (375 degrees F.). For blueberry base, combine blueberries, sugar, flour and lemon juice in 2-quart casserole dish. Dot with butter. Place in preheated oven (375 degrees F.) for 10 minutes.

For topping, place egg and orange juice in bag of coffee cake mix. Squeeze upper part of bag to force air out. Close top of bag by holding tightly between thumb and index finger. With bag resting on table, mix by working bag vigorously with fingers. (Mix about 40 seconds or until egg is completely blended.) Squeeze bag to empty batter around edge of hot blueberry mixture in casserole. Bake 30 to 35 minutes. Serve warm with sour cream.

Note: Save cinnamon topping contained in coffee cake package for toast, baked apples, etc.

FICTION

THE WINTER OF OUR DISCONTENT by John Steinbeck. Rated by critics as his best since Grapes of Wrath, this is placed in a New England background. The theme is the loss of integrity in our world, ,and the story is of one man and his family.

WITH GALL AND HONEY by R. Leslie Gourse. Eighteen-year-old Andrea Nornatnai tells of her trip to Israel, after flunking out of college. Far from shy, she nevertheless made acquaintances rather than friends until she was caught up into Israeli life and found herself half in love with two men.

THE ROAD TO THE SNAIL by William P. McGivern. The Snail was a villa in Spain. The Road had never been built. When an Englishman rents The Snail and determines that the road is to be built, a whole village becomes involved.

THE BEST AND WORST OF TIMES by Peter Sourian. Jack Gillian, dazzled by his bachelor friend Tom's talk of travel and good times, didn't realize until too late that he was taking out on his wife an envy that was based on a misconception.

DESTINY OF FIRE by Zoe Oldenbourg. All of Miss Oldenbourg's excellent books have been set in the Middle Ages. This one takes place during the Fourth Crusade, and reconts the story of a titled family whose members fall victims to religious persecution.

THE FAIRBROTHERS by Clark McMeekin. A Kentucky family trying to get along in the days after the Civil War. They run a school and then a health resort. Being Kentuckians living near Louisville, they are bound to raise horses and the last chapter of the book describes the first Kentucky Derby.

THE DEAR DECEIT by Christine Brooke-Rose. His son retraces the life, from his deathbed to his childhood, of Alfred Northbrook Hayley, who had lived a life of indiscretion and deceit but was likeable in spite of it.

THE LAST LETTER HOME by Vilhalm Moberg. The third and final part of a saga of the American West. The characters are Swedish immigrants who lived 100 years ago. The author is a master of his craft.

YOU'LL WALK TO MANDALAY by John Sibly. A doctor and a nurse, with the help of an officer take a small ship-load of wounded soldiers to a safer area during World War II in Burma.

HORSEMAN, , PASS BY by Larry McMurtry. An extremely realistic picture of ranching in Texas.

TO THE REAR, MARCH by Joseph Coogan. Steve Leary sets off to the wars with dreams of glory—but wound up working in an Army medical laboratory seven blocks from home.

GREEN AND GOLDEN BY Alix Taylor. Melanie, who is eight, her sister and two brothers live in France. This is a sensitively told story of a year of their lives.

IT ALWAYS RAINS IN ROME by John F. Leeming. Overzealous "liberators" are about to blow up the fourteenth-century bridge in a small Italian town near the end of World War II. Much hilarity.
